sanctioned is not commensurate. It is also not clear whether the award has been passed in the case and whether the land has already been taken possession of. The records do not show that the award order itself was passed. Possession of the land has not been evidently taken. Further, a number of recommendations are of being received of late for withdrawing from acquisition proceedings once sanctioned by Govt, on some ground or other. It appears necessary to issue a general circular asking the Dep. concerned to make an exhaustive investigation before about all the matters before obtaining Govt sanction to the acquisition proceedings, so that cases of withdrawals may be minimised. Submitted for orders, along with a draft notification.

Instances have come to the notice of Govt wherein proposals for the withdrawal from the acquisition of properties which had been sanctioned previously, are being submitted for the sanction of Govt for various frivolous reasons.

Govt have reason to believe that this is due to the fact that an exhaustive investigation as to the need for the acquisition etc as contemplated in the rules under the Land Acquisition Regulation, is not being made before submitting proposals for sanctioning the acquisition
